I used to get high to feel euphoric as with cocaine and to expand my mind with mushrooms. I eventually experienced every archetypal image that could be hidden in my genetic code. I came up with some profound stuff that I think could have been hidden in my DNA that comes out only in some individuals under certain conditions over their lifetimes. For me, it was mans inhumanity to man. One night when I was about 23, I did some magic mushrooms and all of a sudden I watched a movie unfold in my mind about the pain, suffering, evil and injustice human beings have inflicted on each other ever since we came into being which is the topic of another book I created about human origins. I concluded that the only meaningful life for us billions of people subservient to a ruling class is to get over this idea that weve been indoctrinated to believe in that were powerless against the forces of government and big business even in our so-called representative democracies which are fake democracies. We, the people, have no power except for the measly vote they gave us every four years between two guys that belong to same elite ruling gang. This is why I wrote the People Power Program. The PPP could give us the power to rule ourselves mostly over the internet if enough of us unite to topple these few elitists that keep us divided by making us think were disjointed, powerless loners which were not if we simply get the guts and initiative to get together and do it the simple way I planned out peacefully and quickly. Several years after that, I was doing cocaine by myself. I had gone through most of an ounce over 24 hours or so when I clearly heard a voice in my head telling me to inject myself in my testicles for a better high. It wasnt my voice. It was a voice beyond me from an external entity. I knew it was evil. That was pretty well the end of my hardcore drug use. When something like that happens to anyone, it doesn't matter what anyone else on the planet says. I knew I had a supernatural encounter with an evil force. Back then, I hadn't thought much about the supernatural forces of good and evil but now I believe in the Second Heaven which is the area of Planet Earth but in a different dimension. I believe we all have two guardian angels and demons around us where we live that we can't see, hear or feel except in exceptional circumstances. We have free will to do whatever we want. Our guardian angels try to help us do good things. The demons try to make us do evil things and destroy ourselves. If you open yourself to evil and temptation as with doing drugs or inviting spirits in through ouiji boards, tarot cards and things like that, demons will enter, try to possess you and make you evil.

I believe an evil force was trying to destroy me. After that, I hardly ever did coke anymore but I still continued to use acid, mushrooms and morning glory seeds because I was still looking for something after I read John C. Lilly's drug experience books. I've watched maybe a hundred or more videos on youtube with people talking about their ayahuasca vision quests or lsd experiences. Some are rambling psychedelic hallucinations that mean nothing. Most are the person's problems, anxieties, dreams and hopes brought to the surface of their lives, sometimes through an allegorical story in their mind's eye. I'm starting to move away from the collective consciousness idea that the human race memory is stored in our DNA more towards the spiritual dimension where the supernatural forces of good and evil are battling each other for the souls of human beings. I used to think life was psychedelic and broad but now I'm inclined to see everything in black and white, good versus evil. That's what my near-death experience book is about, my decision to believe I have an eternal soul based on watching several hundred NDE account videos.
